- c. Sufism
- d. Turkish "Muslimness"
- e. education in contemporary societies
- f. interfaith and intercultural dialogue, tolerance and peace
- g. understanding of the historical dynamics and references of tolerance, multiculturalism and the Ottoman example
- h. terrorism, coercion, and violence
- i. jihad
- j. the resolution of social, ethnic, and religious conflict in the modern world, and democracy
- k. inculcating faith by teaching (tabligh) and by example (tamsil)
- l. approaches to universal ethical values
- m. Turkey's coexistence with or integration into the European Union
- n. the changing role of women in society and in public life.

Submission and Publication Guidelines

The authors should submit papers of minimum 3000 and maximum 6000 words to the conference coordinator by January 23, 2006. Electronic submission via email is preferred. Authors who choose to submit hard copies are responsible for the timely delivery of their submissions by the same deadline. The editorial board will evaluate and ask the authors to revise the papers (if needed) and resubmit camera-ready copies by February 15, 2006. The conference organizers reserve the right to remove from the proposed program papers not received by the published deadlines or that fail to respond to the comments of the editorial board. The accepted papers will be published on the conference webpage and as conference proceedings.

The coverage of the conference will be publicized on the related web page www.fethullahgulenconference.org.

All authors are requested to comply with the following guidelines.

- References to the Qur'an and the Hadith and the works of Fethullah Gülen are to be cited in relevant articles.
- Word count should be minimum 3,000 and maximum 6000.
- The Organizing Committee will provide interested contributors with the electronic and printed version of several resources, such as books and articles, related to conference themes to facilitate essay writing.
